

Deborah Yamanaka

I have lived in Wrington with my husband since 1982 and my two children attended Wrington School 30 years ago.

I became a school governor in 1989, a Parish Councillor in 1990 and I have also been Wrington's North Somerset Councillor since 1995. On North Somerset Council I am a member of the Children & Young People and the Corporate and Community Services Scrutiny panels. My main interests on NSC are education and the environment.

I took early retiring from teaching IT in 2003, having previously worked as a computer programmer.

My interests outside local government and politics are music & gardening.
